

LINDAU AND BREGENZ

After lunch to say goodbye to the students from Wangen and Ebensee, we took the bus to visit Lindau, a town on Lake Constance, also known as the Bodensee. This town has the particularity of having its historic centre located on an island.

After touring the old town, we found a small beach where we could relax, sunbathe and, if we wanted, swim. The beach, made up of small pebbles, was next to a park full of trees where we took shelter from the sun.

At 4 p.m. we had the opportunity to take a ferry to visit another town: Bregenz, a town in Austria that is also located on Lake Constance. Some preferred to stay in Lindau, while most went to Bregenz.

The ferry took about 20 minutes. Once we arrived in this town, we decided to have an ice cream to refresh ourselves and then went to visit the centre. As we walked, we also found a monument that showed us the direction and distance of some towns from that point in Bregenz.

At 6 p.m. our bus arrived and took us back to Wangen to visit it alone one last time before we left the next day for Prato.
